A Poetic Journey of Love, Loss, and Redemption

In the aftermath of a broken relationship, the author embarks on a journey of self-discovery and healing through the power of poetry. This book is a raw and honest account of her experiences, emotions, and insights as she navigates the tumultuous waters of heartbreak.

With each poem, the author explores a different facet of love and loss, from the initial shock and disbelief to the waves of grief and anger that follow. She delves into the complexities of human relationships, the pain of betrayal, and the search for meaning in the face of adversity.

Through her evocative and deeply personal writing, the author invites readers to confront their own experiences of love and loss. Her words provide a space for reflection, healing, and ultimately, hope.

Praise for Love Like Bleeding Out With An Empty Gun In Your Hand

"This book is a gift. It is a raw and honest account of one woman's journey through the pain of heartbreak and the search for healing and redemption. The author's words are both heartbreaking and hopeful, and they offer a much-needed reminder that we are not alone in our suffering.

- Brené Brown, author of Daring Greatly and Atlas of the Heart

"A powerful and moving exploration of love, loss, and the human condition. This book is a must-read for anyone who has ever experienced heartbreak or loss."

- Elizabeth Gilbert, author of Eat, Pray, Love and City of Girls

"A beautifully written and deeply resonant book. The author's insights into the nature of love and loss are both profound and deeply personal. This book will stay with me long after I finish reading it."

- Glennon Doyle, author of Untamed and Love Warrior
