The novel begins with the of the main characters. There is Sarah, a young woman who is traveling to visit her dying father. There is Jack, a businessman who is on his way to a big meeting. There is Emily, a mother who is taking her children on vacation. And there is David, a doctor who is returning home from a medical mission.

As the flight takes off, the passengers are unaware of the danger that lies ahead. They are all preoccupied with their own lives and their own problems. But as the plane begins to experience turbulence, they realize that something is wrong.

The plane shakes violently and the passengers are thrown from their seats. Oxygen masks drop from the ceiling and the cabin fills with smoke. The passengers are terrified and they know that they are going to die.

In the face of their impending deaths, the passengers are forced to confront their past mistakes and make peace with their loved ones. Sarah calls her father and tells him that she loves him. Jack calls his wife and tells her that he is sorry for everything. Emily calls her children and tells them that she will always be with them.

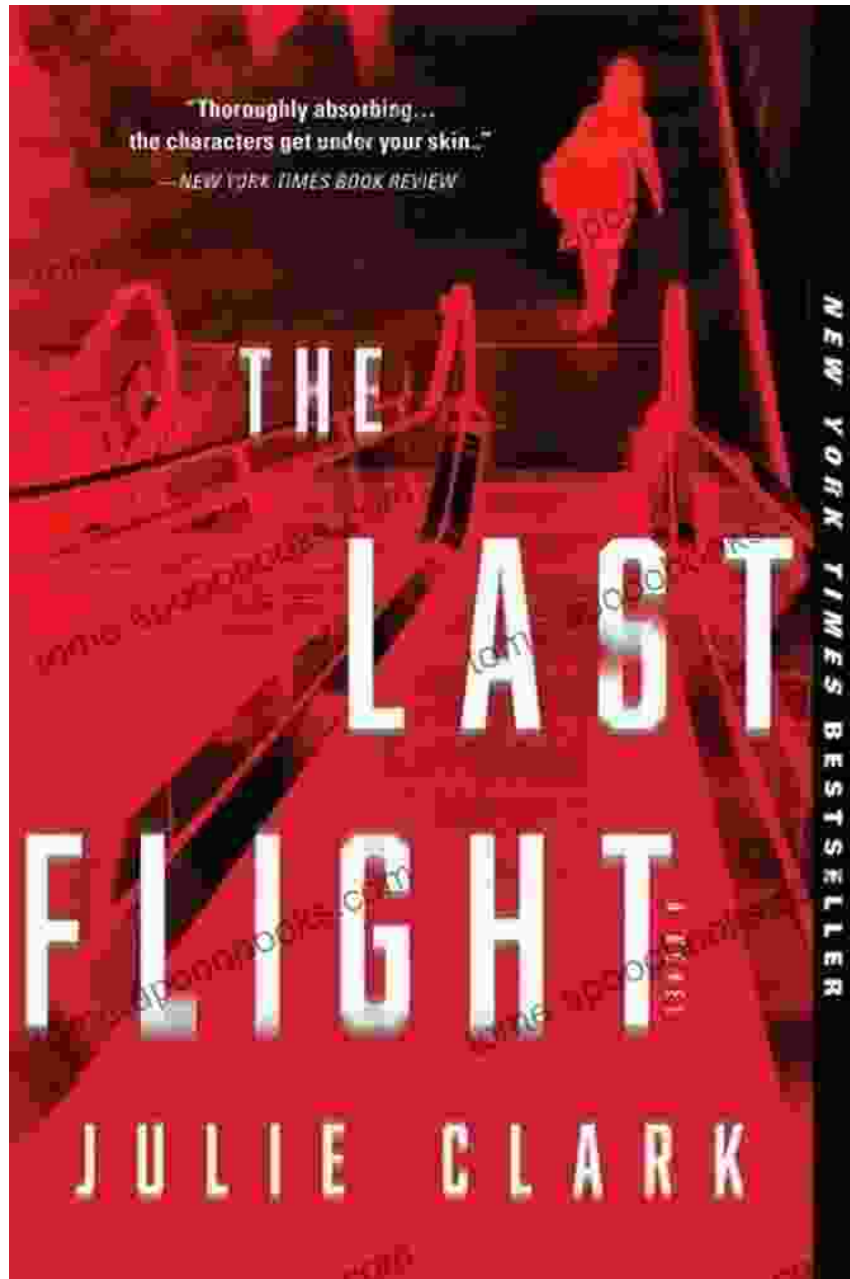

The plane crashes into the ocean and the passengers are killed. But their stories do not end there. The novel follows the survivors as they try to rebuild their lives in the aftermath of the crash.

The Last Flight is a powerful and moving novel that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a story about the human condition and the importance of love, loss, and redemption.
